DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. Claim 9 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 8. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MEP. § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

- (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371© of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.
- 3. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Scott et al. (US 6,101,473).

Regarding claims 1, 7, 11, Scott et al. disclose a system for using speech recognition to access the Internet comprising the following features: in Fig. 1, speech web browser 7 for supporting one or more connections on the Internet; speech web server 8 for supporting one or more connections from the server to user 15 depicted in Fig. 5, and for passing information to the user 15; the speech web server 8 for controlling input or output of the information in the server, and for processing the information. See column 4-7.

Regarding claims 2 and 3, Scott et al. disclose that the speech web server 8 is operable to interact with user 15 having computer 16 and telephone 19, and to select which modal forms to use according to the command received from the user 15.

Regarding claim 4, Scott et al. disclose that the speech web server 8 is operable to receive inputs from user 15, and to determine the intention of the user based on the inputs.

Regarding claims 5-6, Scott et al. disclose that speech server 9 is for being arranged to recognize speech as an input, and being arranged to generate audio as an output.

Regarding claim 10, Scott et al. disclose that the speech web server 8 has a link 11 to a telephone network 12.

Claims 12-16 disclose the similar limitations as those recited in claims 1-10. Therefore, claims 12-16 are rejected by the same reasons set forth.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Giangarra et al. (US 6,101,472) disclose a data processing system.

Levay et al. (US 6,067,516) disclose a speech and text messaging system.
